Item 4 - Advisory Business

Description of Firm

Iseler Financial, LLC is a North Carolina limited liability company formed in May of 2019 for general business purposes and operating under the trade name Iseler Financial. Our advisory Firm is not a subsidiary of, nor does it control, another financial services industry entity.

Timothy T. Iseler is Firm Principal and Chief Compliance Officer (supervisor). He is also Managing Member and maintains majority interest in the Firm. Additional information about Timothy Iseler and his background is found toward the end of this brochure.

In addition to our August of 2019 registration as an investment advisor in North Carolina, our Firm and its associates may register/become licensed or meet certain exemptions to registration and/or licensing in other jurisdictions in which investment advisory business is conducted.

Description of Services

Our planning services provide clients with advice on key topics such as cash flow and budgeting, funding a college education, retirement, risk management, and estate or tax planning, among others. We provide periodic educational workshops. Ongoing supervision of clients' accounts are provided through our asset management services. We also facilitate tax preparation services through third party vendors.

An initial interview is conducted with you to discuss your current situation and goals, as well as the scope of our Firm's services that may be provided. Prior to or concurrent with providing a Client Engagement Agreement, we will provide our Form ADV Part 2 Firm brochure, privacy policy statement, and the brochure supplement about the representative who will be assisting you. Our Firm will disclose any material conflicts of interest that could be reasonably expected to impede the rendering of unbiased and objective advice, such as information found in Items 10 and 12 of this brochure.

If you wish to engage our Firm for its services, we must first execute a Client Engagement Agreement. Thereafter, further discussion and analysis will be conducted to determine financial needs, goals, holdings, etc. Depending on the scope of the engagement, you may be asked to provide copies of the following documents early in the process:

- Wills, codicils and trusts
- Insurance policies, including information about riders, loans and amendments
- Mortgage information
- Tax returns
- Student loans

ISELER FINANCIAL, LLC | iselerfinancial.com | info@iselerfinancial.com | Durham, NC 27707 | +1 919 666-7604

- Divorce decree or separation agreement
- Current financial specifics including W-2s, 1099s, K-1 statements, etc.
- Information on current retirement plans and other benefits provided by an employer
- Statements reflecting current investments in retirement and non-retirement accounts
- Employment or other business agreements
- Completed risk profile questionnaires or other forms provided by our Firm

It is important that we are provided with an adequate level of information and supporting documentation throughout the term of the engagement including but not limited to: source of funds, income levels, and an account holder or attorney-in-fact's authority to act on behalf of the account, among other information that may be necessary for our services. The information and/or financial statements provided to us need to be accurate. Our Firm may, but is not obligated to, verify the information that has been provided to us which will then be used in the advisory process.

Financial Planning

A general description of our planning components is provided in the following paragraphs. Our services may be provided to you as broad-based or more narrowly focused. If several components are provided together, the total time needed to complete your plan may be more efficient by combining more than one component.

Cash Flow Analysis and Debt Management

A review of your income and expenses will be conducted to determine your current surplus or deficit. Based upon the results, we will provide advice on prioritizing how any surplus should be used, or how to reduce expenses if they exceed your income. In addition, advice on the prioritization of which debts to repay may be provided, based upon such factors as the debt's interest rate and any income tax ramifications. Recommendations may also be made regarding the appropriate level of cash reserves for emergencies and other financial goals. These recommendations are based upon a review of cash accounts (such as money market funds) for such reserves and may include strategies to save desired reserve amounts.

Risk Management

A risk management review includes an analysis of your exposure to major risks that could have a significant adverse impact on your financial picture, such as premature death, disability, property and casualty losses, or the need for long-term care planning. Advice may be provided on ways to minimize such risks and about weighing the costs of purchasing insurance versus the benefits of doing so and, likewise, the potential cost of not purchasing insurance (“self-insuring”).

Employee Benefits

A review is conducted, and analysis is made as to whether you, as an employee, are taking maximum advantage of your employee benefits. We will also offer advice on your employer-sponsored retirement plan and/or stock options, along with other benefits that may be available to you.

Personal Retirement Planning

Retirement planning services typically include projections of your likelihood of achieving your financial goals, with financial independence usually the primary objective. For situations where projections show less than the desired results, a recommendation may include showing you the impact on those projections by making changes in certain variables (i.e., working longer, saving more, spending less, taking more risk with investments). If you are near retirement or already retired, advice may be given on appropriate distribution strategies to minimize the likelihood of running out of money or having to adversely alter spending during your retirement years.

Estate Planning and Charitable Giving

Our firm offers Estate Planning assistance to clients in the form of education on estate planning topics and the collection of general information necessary to complete a new estate plan or review a current estate plan. We also assist the client in gathering the required information needed to provide outside estate planning firms so that an estate plan can be created or updated.

Our review typically includes an analysis of your exposure to estate taxes and your current estate plan, which may include whether you have a will, powers of attorney, trusts and other related documents.

We may identify ways to minimize or avoid estate taxes by implementing appropriate estate planning and charitable giving strategies. We are not a law firm, and we encourage you to consult with an experienced attorney when you initiate, update, or complete estate planning activities, and we may provide you with contact information for attorneys who specialize in estate planning. We are available to participate in meetings or phone calls between you and your attorney with prior approval.

All fees paid by the client for outside referred services will be paid to those service providers directly. Clients are not required to utilize any third-party products, services, or referrals that we may recommend and can select the service provider of their choice.

Education Planning

Advice involving funding an education may include projecting the amount that will be needed to achieve post-secondary goals, along with savings strategies and the “pros-and-cons” of various college savings vehicles that are available. We are also available to review your financial picture as it relates to eligibility for financial aid or ways to contribute to family members’ educations.

Tax Planning Strategies

Advice may include ways to minimize current and future income taxes as a part of your overall financial planning picture. For example, recommendations may be offered as to which type of account(s) or specific investments should be owned based in part on their “tax efficiency,” with consideration that there is always a possibility of future changes to federal, state or local tax laws and rates that may impact your situation. We are not an accounting firm, but we can provide you with contact information for various specialists when you wish to hire an accountant or tax attorney.

Divorce Planning

Separation or divorce can have a major impact on your goals and plans. We will work with you to help you gain an understanding of your unique situation and provide you with a realistic financial picture so that you are in a better situation to communicate with legal counsel, a mediator or soon to be ex-spouse. We can assist in the completion of cash flow and net worth projections, budgetary analysis, as well as help you to understand the financial consequences involving a settlement.

Investment Consultation

Our investment consultation component often involves providing general information about the types of investment vehicles available, employee retirement plans and/or stock options, investment analysis and strategies, asset selection and portfolio design, as well as limited assistance if your investment account is maintained at another broker/dealer or custodian. The strategies and types of investments that may be recommended are further discussed in Item 8 of this brochure.

Business Consultation

We are available to assist small businesses in a variety of ways, including business strategy, general financial advice, debt management, as well as assisting you with matters involving coordination with your financial institution, attorney or accounting firm.

A range of variables can affect the development of a financial plan, such as the quality of your own records, complexity and number of current investments, diversity of insurance products and employee benefits you currently hold, size of the potential estate, and special needs of the client or their dependents, among others. At your request, we may concentrate on reviewing only a specific area, such as an employer retirement plan allocation, funding an education or estate planning issues, or evaluating the sufficiency of your current retirement plan. Note that when these services focus only on certain areas of your interest, your overall situation may not be fully addressed due to limitations you may have established. We will present you with a summary of our recommendations, guide you in the implementation of some or all of them per your decision, as well as offer you periodic reviews thereafter. In all instances involving our financial planning engagements, our clients retain full discretion over all implementation decisions and are free to accept or reject any recommendation we make.

Educational Workshops & Speaking Engagements

Our Firm may provide periodic educational seminars, workshops, or speaking engagements on an "as announced" basis for groups seeking general advice on personal finance and investing. The content will vary depending upon the needs of the audience, and topics may include issues related to general financial planning, educational funding, estate planning, retirement strategies, and various other current economic or financial topics. Our workshops are educational in nature and do not involve the solicitation of investment or insurance products.

Any information provided will not be based on any one person's needs, nor do we provide individualized investment advice to attendees during workshops and seminars. Iseler Financial may present at businesses, associations, conferences, or other events for individuals interested in learning more about personal finance, investing, or other topics

Asset Management

Iseler Financial offers Asset Management for clients who wish to delegate the implementation, monitoring, rebalancing, and updating (as needed) of investment advice. The firm will manage assets in client investment accounts held at our custodian(s) of record.

Please be advised that Financial Planning clients are not required to engage in this service, and similar services may be available elsewhere at a lower cost. While the advice received as a Financial Planning client will inform investment strategies, Asset Management is an optional & distinct service and is not intended to be a stand-alone Financial Planning alternative.

Depending on your risk profile, goals and needs, among other considerations, your portfolio will involve the employment of one of our investment strategies as well as either a broad range or more narrowly focused choice of investment vehicles which are further discussed in Item 8 of this brochure. We do not offer an investment program involving wrapped (bundled) fees.

We prepare written investment guidelines reflecting your objectives, time horizon, tolerance for risk, as well as any reasonable account constraints you may have for the portfolio. For example, you have the right to exclude certain securities (e.g., options, stocks, etc.) at your discretion. These guidelines will be designed to be specific enough to provide future guidance while allowing flexibility to work with changing market conditions. We will then develop a customized portfolio for you based on your unique situation and goals. We manage client investments on a discretionary or nondiscretionary basis (defined in Item 16).

In certain instances, the firm may accept Portfolio Management clients that are not also Financial Planning clients.

As of 31 December 2021, the Firm manages assets of $627,188 in a continuous and regular manner. Of these assets, $479,015 are discretionary and $148,173 are non-discretionary.

Personal Tax Return Preparation

We facilitate tax preparation services for our clients to assist with the filing of federal and state tax returns for individuals and businesses. We may ask for an explanation or clarification of some items, but we will not audit or otherwise verify Client data. The Client is responsible for the completeness and accuracy of information used to prepare the returns. Our responsibility is to facilitate preparation of the returns in accordance with applicable tax laws. We will utilize the services of a third-party accounting, bookkeeping, and tax preparation firm to facilitate the preparation and filing of your tax return and will work with you and the third-party to gather the necessary information as part of this service.

We may observe opportunities for tax savings that require planning or changes in the way the client handles some transactions. While an engagement for tax return preparation does not include significant tax planning services, we will share any ideas we have with you and discuss terms for any additional work that may be required to implement those ideas.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

Forms of payment are based on the types of services being provided, term of service, etc., and will be stated in your Client Engagement Agreement with our Firm. Our published fees are negotiable, and we may waive our fees for our associates and their family members. Please be advised that similar services may be available elsewhere at a lower cost.

Fees are to be paid to the Firm by check or draft from US-based financial institutions. With your prior authorization, payment may also be made by withdrawal from your investment account held at your custodian of record. Iseler Financial does not accept cash, money orders or similar forms of payment for its engagements.

Financial Planning

We assess a flat fee of $300 for our initial client on-boarding and all data collection. Payment in full is required upon delivery of our invoice, which coincides with return of the completed client agreement. We are paid a fixed annual retainer fee of $3,600 – billed as a recurring $300 per month charge – for ongoing financial planning services. The fee is paid to our Firm in arrears; due within the first 5 calendar days following the end of each month. We will prorate the first month's fee based on the number of days remaining in the first billing cycle following the return of the completed client agreement.

The presentation of an initial financial report will follow approximately 8-12 weeks after completion of all client on-boarding procedures. Following our presentation of your report, we are available to assist you over the course of the year to ensure various planning action items are accomplished.

Financial Consultation

We offer Financial Consultation at a rate of $300 per hour, billed in quarter-hour (15 minute) increments. Partial increments will be treated as a whole increment. Prior to entering into an agreement with our firm, you will receive an estimate of the overall cost based on your requirements and the time involved. No deposit is required. Payment in full is required at delivery of our invoice, which coincides with the date & starting time of any scheduled consultation.

Should a Financial Consultation client engage the Firm in an on-going Financial Planning at a later date, the Firm may choose to waive the on-boarding fee associated with that service.

Educational Workshops & Speaking Engagements

Timothy Iseler is a public speaker (Speaker). Educational workshops, seminars, and speaking engagements (Events) are offered to organizations and the public on a variety of topics. The content is based on issues that are currently relevant in the financial planning environment and may vary depending upon the needs of the audience.

Events are billed on a fixed fee basis, which will be agreed upon prior to confirming the engagement. Fees can range between $500 - $10,000 per event or $100 - $500 per participant and may be negotiable. Fees are determined based on the content, amount of research conducted, number of hours of preparation required, and the number of attendees. One half (50%) of the total agreed upon fees are due prior to the Event and the remaining half (50%) of fees are due on the day of, or upon the completion of the Event.

In the event of inclement weather or flight cancellation, the Speaker shall make all reasonable attempts to make alternative travel arrangements to arrive in time for the presentation or will arrange to present in a virtual capacity. If travel proves impossible, or the event is otherwise canceled, the Speaker's fee is waived, but the Client will still be responsible for reimbursement of any non-refundable travel expenses already incurred.

In the event that the Client cancels or changes the date of the event for any reason besides weather or similar unforeseen causes, the Client will still be responsible for reimbursement of any non-refundable travel expenses already incurred and will provide payment for one half (50%) of the Speaker's fee if the cancellation occurs within 30 days of the event. This fee due to Client cancellation within thirty (30) days is intended to compensate the Speaker for time spent preparing for the event, as the majority of seminar, workshop, and speaking engagement work is completed prior to the actual date of the event itself, and typically well in advance of thirty (30) days prior to the event.

In the event that the Speaker must cancel due to health or similar unforeseen circumstances, the Speaker will make all attempts to find a reasonable alternative engagement date, time, and format, and will absorb any incremental additional costs for obtaining alternative travel arrangements. If an alternative date cannot be obtained, the Client will not be responsible for any travel costs already incurred by the Speaker or any portion of the Speaker's fee.

Educational Seminars and Speaking Engagements may be provided pro-bono at Iseler Financial's discretion.

Portfolio Management

Investment accounts managed by our Firm are assessed an annualized asset-based based that is paid quarterly, in arrears, as indicated in the following fee table. The fee is calculated by multiplying the quotient by the applicable number of basis points (one basis point equals 1/100 of one percent). The result is then divided by four to determine the quarterly fee.

Formula: ((quarter-end market value) x (applicable number of basis points)) ÷ 4

Assets Under Management	Annualized Asset-Based Fee
$0 - $99,999	1.10% (110 basis points)
$100,000 - $499,999	1.00% (100 basis points)
$500,000 - $999,999	0.90% (90 basis points)
$1,000,000 – $2,499,999	0.80% (80 basis points)
$2,500,000- $4,999,999	0.70% (70 basis points)
$5,000,000 - Above	0.60% (60 basis points)

Our fee schedule is based on a straight tier; all accounts are charged a single percentage rate that declines as asset levels increase. For the benefit of discounting your asset-based fee, we will attempt to aggregate accounts for the same household.

Advisory fees will be determined by the reported account value as of the last market day of each quarter in consonance with the statement you will receive from your custodian of record for the purpose of verifying the computation of our advisory fee. In the rare absence of a reportable market value, our Firm may seek a third-party opinion from a recognized industry source (e.g., unaffiliated public accounting Firm), and our clients may choose to separately seek such an opinion at their own expense as to the valuation of “hard-to-price” securities if necessary.

Asset Management fees for Financial Planning clients will be reduced by up to 100% of Financial Planning retainer fees. In other words, clients with Asset Management fees equal to or less than Financial Planning fees during a calendar year will receive no additional invoices. Asset Management fees above that amount during a calendar year will be invoiced to the Client only to the extent that fees exceed Financial Planning fees.

The first billing cycle will begin once the client agreement is executed and account assets have settled into your separately identifiable account held by your custodian of record. Fees for partial quarters will be prorated based on the remaining days in the reporting period in which the Firm services the account. Fee payments will generally be assessed within the first 10 calendar days of each billing cycle. Our Firm will send you and your custodian of record written notice (invoice) each billing period that describes the advisory fees to be deducted from the account at our Firm’s request. The invoice will include the total fee assessed, covered time period, calculation formula utilized, and reference to the assets under management in which the fee had been based.

Your written authorization is required for the custodian of record to deduct advisory fees from your account. By signing our Firm’s engagement agreement, as well as the custodian account opening documents, you will be authorizing the custodian to withdraw both advisory fees and any transactional fees from your account. The custodian will remit our fees directly to our Firm.

Fees deducted from your account will be noted on statements that you will receive directly from your custodian of record.¹ We encourage you to verify the accuracy of fee calculations; the custodian may not verify the accuracy of advisory fee assessments for each account or on a consistent basis.

Alternatively, you may request to directly pay our advisory Firm its Assets Management fee in lieu of having the advisory fee withdrawn from your investment account. Our valuation assessment will remain the same as described above, and the client's direct payment must be received by our Firm within 10 days of our invoice.

Personal Tax Return Preparation

The fees for Personal Tax Return Preparation will be determined based on the complexity of the return and quality of recordkeeping. The fees may be negotiable in certain cases, will be agreed upon at the start of the engagement, and are due at the completion of the engagement. Clients are not required to utilize any third-party products or services that we may recommend, and they can receive similar services from other professionals at a similar or lower cost.

Additional Client Fees

Any transactional or service fees (sometimes termed brokerage fees), individual retirement account fees, qualified retirement plan fees, account termination fees, or ACH/wire transfer fees will be borne by the account holder per the custodian of record's separate fee schedule. Additional information about our fees in relationship to our brokerage practices are noted in Item 12 of this document. Fees paid by our clients to our Firm for our advisory services are separate from any internal fees or charges a client may pay for mutual funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs) or other similar investments.

No External Compensation

Iseler Financial and its associates do not charge or receive a commission or a mark-up on a client's securities transactions, nor will the Firm or an associate be paid a commission on the purchase of a securities holding that is recommended to a client. We do not receive "trails" or SEC Rule 12b-1 fees from an investment company that may be recommended to a client. Fees charged by such issuers are detailed in prospectuses or product descriptions that clients are encouraged to read. Our Firm and its associates receive none of these described or similar fees or charges. Our clients retain the right to purchase recommended or similar investments through a service provider of their choice (i.e., brokers, agents, etc.).

Termination of Services

Either party may terminate the agreement at any time by communicating the intent to terminate in writing. Our Firm will not be responsible for investment allocation, advice or transactional services (except for limited closing transactions) upon receipt of a termination notice. It will also be necessary that we inform the custodian of record that the relationship between parties has been terminated.

If a client did not receive our Form ADV Part 2 Firm brochure at least 48 hours prior to entering into our Firm's agreement, then that client will have the right to terminate the engagement without penalty within five business days after entering into the agreement. If a client terminates a financial planning service after this five-day time period, the client is assessed fees at the Firm's current hourly rate for any time incurred in the preparation of the client's analysis or plan. A client engaging the Firm for its retainer services or portfolio management service who terminates their agreement after the five-day period will be assessed fees on a prorated basis for services incurred from either (i) as a new client, the date of the engagement to the date of the Firm's receipt of the written notice of termination, or (ii) all other accounts, the last billing period to the date of the Firm's physical or constructive receipt of written termination notice.

Our Firm will return any prepaid, unearned fees within 30 days of the Firm's receipt of termination notice. Earned fees in excess of any prepaid amount will be billed at the time of termination and will be due upon the client's receipt of Firm invoice.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Our Firm's advisory fees will not be based on a share of capital gains or capital appreciation (growth) of any portion of managed funds, also known as performance-based fees. Our fees will also not be based on side-by-side management, which refers to a Firm simultaneously managing accounts that do pay performance-based fees (such as a hedge fund) and those that do not.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

We provide advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals and small businesses. Our Firm does not require minimum income, asset levels or other similar preconditions for its engagements. We reserve the right to decline services to any prospective client for any nondiscriminatory reason.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

We employ fundamental analyses; evaluating economic factors including interest rates, the current state of the economy, or the future growth of an industry sector. Our research is often drawn from sources that include:

- financial periodicals
- research reports from economists and other industry professionals
- company press releases and annual reports
- regulatory filings (i.e., prospectus, financial filings, etc.)

Investment Strategies

We recognize that each client's needs and goals are different; subsequently, portfolio strategies and underlying investment vehicles may vary. Portfolios that we design may contain a broad range of mutual funds, Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs), individual equities and fixed income securities (stocks and bonds), as well as real estate investment trusts (REITs). The following are common strategies utilized within our client's portfolios:

Core + Satellite

Core + Satellite investment strategy blends passive and active investing, where passive investments are used as the basis or "core" of a portfolio and actively managed investments are added as smaller "satellite" positions. The portfolio core holdings are indexed to potentially more efficient asset classes, while outlying selections are generally limited to active holdings in an attempt to outperform a particular category (sector), or a selection of particular positions to increase core diversification, or to improve portfolio performance. For example, the core of a portfolio may be built with passive index funds or ETFs; satellite holdings would include active investments (e.g., active mutual funds, equities, etc.) with unique strategies that are believed capable of adding value beyond a stated benchmark over a full market cycle.

Modern Portfolio Theory

Modern Portfolio Theory states that by employing securities whose price movements have historically low correlations, it is possible to create an efficient portfolio that can offer the highest expected return for a given level of risk, or one with the lowest level of risk for a given expected return. The practice of Modern Portfolio Theory does not employ market timing or stock selection methods of investing but rather a long term, buy-and-hold strategy with periodic rebalancing of the account to maintain desired risk levels.

Environmental, Social, and Governance

Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) strategies seek to invest in the securities of companies (or funds containing such securities) that demonstrate one or more positive characteristics concerning environmental, social, and corporate governance (“ESG”). This approach resonates with many who seek to align investment decisions with core values. It is also the Firm’s judgement that such strategies will become increasingly effective for generating investment returns as concerns around climate change, equality, and culture become essential to the forward-looking strategies of publicly-traded companies. Additionally, ESG mutual funds and ETFs have advanced to the point that fund management fees now rival the low fees associated with passive index investing.

Risk of Loss

Our Firm believes its strategies and investment recommendations are designed to produce the appropriate potential return for the given level of risk. However, there is no guarantee that a planning goal or investment objective will be achieved. Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future results. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. While the following list is not exhaustive, it provides some examples of such risk in the following paragraphs. We believe it is important that our clients review and consider each prior to investing.

Active Management

A portfolio that employs active management strategies may, at times, outperform or underperform various benchmarks or other strategies. In an effort to meet or surpass these benchmarks, active portfolio management may require more frequent trading or “turnover.” This may result in shorter holding periods, higher transactional costs and/or taxable events generally borne by the client, thereby potentially reducing or negating certain benefits of active asset management.

Company Risk

When investing in securities, such as stocks, there is always a certain level of company or industry-specific risk that is inherent in each company or issuer. There is the risk that the company will perform poorly or have its value reduced based on factors specific to the company or its industry. This is also referred to as unsystematic risk and can be reduced or mitigated through diversification.

Core + Satellite Strategies

Strategies involving Core + Satellite investing may have the potential to be affected by “active risk” (or “tracking error risk”), which might be defined as a deviation from a stated benchmark. Since the core portfolio attempts to closely replicate a stated benchmark, the source of the tracking error or deviation may come from a satellite portfolio or position, or from a “sample” or “optimized” index fund or ETF that may not as closely align the stated benchmark.

Currency Risk

The risk of loss from fluctuating foreign exchange rates when a portfolio has exposure to foreign currency or in foreign currency traded investments is known as currency risk.

Equity (Stock) Risk

Common stocks are susceptible to general stock market fluctuations and to volatile increases or decreases in value as market confidence in and perceptions of their issuers change. If an investor held common stock or common stock equivalents of any given issuer, they may be exposed to greater risk than if they held preferred stocks and debt obligations of the issuer.

Preferred stocks can be affected by interest rate and liquidity risks (described in adjacent paragraphs). Also note that their dividend payment is not guaranteed; some are subject to a call provision, meaning the issuer can redeem its preferred shares on demand, and usually when interest rates have fallen.

ESG Investing Risk

The use of environmental, social and governance factors may impact investment exposure to issuers, industries, sectors, and countries, which may impact a client’s relative performance. ESG criteria is subjective by nature, and the Firm may rely on analysis and ratings provided by third parties in evaluating the risks of particular securities. A client’s perception may differ from the Firm’s or a third party’s on how to judge an issuer’s adherence to sustainable investing. In addition, investments selected by the Firm could be unsuccessful in exhibiting positive ESG characteristics or may assess higher fund management fees than non-screened counterparts.

Failure to Implement

Each financial planning client is free to accept or reject any or all of the recommendations made by our Firm. While no advisory Firm can guarantee future performance, no plan can succeed if it is not implemented. Clients who choose not to take the steps recommended in their plan may face an increased risk that their stated goals and objectives will not be achieved.

Fixed Income Risks

Various forms of fixed income instruments, such as bonds, money market or bond funds may be affected by various forms of risk, including:

- Credit Risk - The potential risk that an issuer would be unable to pay scheduled interest or repay principal at maturity, sometimes referred to as "default risk." Credit risk may also occur when an issuer's ability to make payments of principal and interest when due is interrupted. This may result in a negative impact on all forms of debt instruments, as well as funds or ETF share values that hold these issues. Bondholders are creditors of an issuer and have priority to assets before equity holders (e.g., stockholders) when receiving a payout from liquidation or restructuring. When defaults occur due to bankruptcy, the type of bond held will determine seniority of payment.
- Interest Rate Risk - The risk that the value of the fixed income holding will decrease because of an increase in interest rates.
- Reinvestment Risk - With declining interest rates, investors may have to reinvest interest income or principal at a lower rate.

Fundamental Analysis

The challenge involving fundamental analyses is that information obtained may be incorrect; the analysis may not provide an accurate estimate of earnings, which may be the basis for a security's value. If a security's price adjusts rapidly to new information, a fundamental analysis may result in unfavorable performance.

Inflation Risk

Also called purchasing power risk, is the chance that the cash flows from an investment won't be worth as much in the future because of changes in purchasing power due to inflation.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the inability to readily buy or sell an investment for a price close to the true underlying value of the asset due to a lack of buyers or sellers. While certain types of fixed income are generally liquid (e.g., bonds), there are risks which may occur such as when an issue trading in any given period does not readily support buys and sells at an efficient price. Conversely, when trading volume is high, there is also a risk of not being able to purchase a particular issue at the desired price.

Market Risk

This is also called systematic risk. In cases where markets are under extreme duress, many securities lose their ability to provide diversification benefits.

Mutual Fund/ETFs

The risk of owning mutual funds and ETFs reflect their underlying securities (e.g., stocks, bonds, derivatives, etc.). These forms of securities typically carry additional expenses based on their share of operating expenses and certain brokerage fees, which may result in the potential duplication of certain fees.

Certain ETFs and indexed funds have the potential to be affected by "active risk;" a deviation from its stated index (e.g., S&P 500). While many ETFs and index mutual funds are known for their potential tax-efficiency and higher "qualified dividend income" (QDI) percentages, there are asset classes within these investment vehicles or holding periods within that may not benefit. Shorter holding periods, as well as commodities and currencies (that may be a holding within an ETF or mutual fund), may be considered "non-qualified" under certain tax code provisions. A holding's QDI will be considered when tax-efficiency is an important aspect of the client's portfolio. We do not recommend investing in leveraged and/or inverse ETFs.

Passive Investing

A portfolio that employs a passive, efficient markets approach has the risk of generating lower-than-expected returns due to its broad diversification when compared to a portfolio more narrowly focused.

Political Risk

The risk of financial and market loss because of political decisions or disruptions in a particular country or region and may also be known as "geopolitical risk."

Real Estate Investment Trusts

REIT risks may include (i) following the sale or distribution of assets an investor may receive less than their principal invested, (ii) a lack of a public market in certain issues, (iii) limited liquidity and transferability, (iv) fluctuations involving the value of the assets within the REIT, (v) a reliance on the investment manager to select and manage assets, (vi) changes in interest rates, laws, operating expenses, and insurance costs, (vii) tenant turnover, and (viii) the impact of current market conditions.

Research Data

When research and analyses are based on commercially available software, rating services, general market and financial information, or due diligence reviews, a Firm is relying on the accuracy and validity of the information or capabilities provided by selected vendors, rating services, market data, and the issuers themselves. While our Firm makes every effort to determine the accuracy of the information received, we cannot predict the outcome of events or actions taken or not taken, or the validity of all information researched or provided which may or may not affect the advice on or investment management of an account.

Sequence of Return Risk

The risk of receiving lower or negative returns early in a period when withdrawals are made from an individual's underlying investments.

Item 9 - Disciplinary Information

Neither the Firm nor its management has been involved in any criminal or civil action in a domestic, foreign or military jurisdiction, an administrative enforcement action, or self-regulatory organization proceeding that would reflect poorly upon our offering advisory business or its integrity.

Item 10 - Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Firm policies require associated persons to conduct business activities in a manner that avoids conflicts of interest between the Firm and its clients, or that may be contrary to law. We will provide disclosure to each client prior to and throughout the term of an engagement regarding any conflicts of interest involving its business relationships that might reasonably compromise its impartiality or independence.

Our advisory Firm and its management are not registered nor have an application pending to register as a Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) or National Futures Association (NFA) member Firm or associated person of such a Firm, nor are we required to be registered with or supervised by such entities.

Neither our Firm nor its management is or has a material relationship with any of the following types of entities:

- accounting Firm or accountant
- another investment advisor, including financial planning Firms, municipal advisors or third-party investment managers
- bank, credit union or thrift institution, or their separately identifiable department or division
- insurance company or insurance agency

ISELER FINANCIAL, LLC | iselerfinancial.com | info@iselerfinancial.com | Durham, NC 27707 | +1 919 666-7604

- lawyer or law Firm
- pension consultant
- real estate broker, dealer or advisor
- sponsor or syndicator of limited partnerships
- trust company
- issuer of a security, to include investment company or other pooled investment vehicle (including a mutual fund, closed-end investment company, unit investment trust, private investment company or “hedge fund,” and offshore fund)

Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Our advisory Firm is a fiduciary. We will act in the utmost good faith, performing in a manner believed to be in the best interest of our clients. We believe that our business methodologies, ethics rules, and adopted policies are designed to eliminate or at least minimize material conflicts of interest, and to appropriately manage any material conflicts of interest that may remain. It is important to point out that no set of rules can anticipate or relieve all material conflicts of interest. Our Firm will disclose to its advisory clients any material conflict of interest relating to the Firm, its representatives, or any of its employees which could reasonably be expected to impair the rendering of unbiased and objective advice.

Code of Ethics

We have adopted a Code of Ethics that establishes policies for ethical conduct for our personnel. Our Firm accepts the obligation not only to comply with all applicable laws and regulations but also to act in an ethical and professionally responsible manner in all professional services and activities. Firm policies include prohibitions against insider trading, circulation of industry rumors, and certain political contributions, among others. We periodically review and amend our Code of Ethics to ensure that they remain current, and we require Firm personnel to annually attest to their understanding of and adherence to the Firm’s Code of Ethics. A copy of the Firm’s Code of Ethics is made available to any client or prospective client upon request.

Firm Recommendations and Conflicts of Interest

Our associates are prohibited from borrowing from or lending to a client unless the client is an approved financial lending institution.

Neither our Firm nor its associates are authorized to recommend to a client, or effect a transaction for a client, involving any security in which our Firm or a “related person” (associates, their immediate family members, etc.) has a material financial interest, such as in the capacity as an underwriter, advisor to the issuer, etc.

Our Firm and its related persons may buy or sell securities that are the same as, similar to, or different from, those we recommend to clients for their accounts. A recommendation made to one client may be different in nature or in timing from a recommendation made to a different client. Clients often have different objectives and risk tolerances. At no time will our Firm or any related party receive preferential treatment over our clients. We mitigate this conflict by ensuring that we have policies and procedures in place to ensure that the Firm or a related person will not receive preferential treatment over a client. In order to reduce or eliminate certain conflicts of interest involving personal trading (e.g., trading ahead of client recommendations or trades, etc.), Firm policy requires that we restrict or prohibit certain related parties' transactions. Any exceptions must be approved in writing by our Chief Compliance Officer, and personal trading accounts are reviewed on a quarterly or more frequent basis. Please refer to Item 6 of the accompanying Form ADV Part 2B for further details.

Our Firm is able to provide a range of advisory services to you and all of our clients. Due to our Firm's ability to offer two or more services and receive a fee for each portion of the engagement, a conflict of interest exists due to the range of extended services provided. We therefore note that you are under no obligation to act on our recommendations and, if you elect to do so, you are under no obligation to complete all of them through our Firm or our recommended service providers.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

Factors Used to Select Broker/Dealers for Client Transactions

Your accounts must be separately maintained by a qualified custodian (generally a broker/dealer, futures commission merchant, national bank or trust company) that is frequently reviewed for its capabilities to serve in that capacity by their respective industry regulatory authority. Our Firm is not a custodian, there is not an affiliate that is a custodian, nor does a custodian supervise our Firm, its activities or our associates. We do not receive referrals from a custodian, nor are client referrals a factor in our recommendation of a custodian.

When engaged to provide an investment consultation component of our financial planning service, we may recommend the service provider where client assets are currently maintained. If a client prefers a new service provider, a recommendation made by the Firm would be based on client need, overall cost, and ease of use.

We participate in the TD Ameritrade Institutional program. TD Ameritrade Institutional is a division of TD Ameritrade, Inc. ("TD Ameritrade"), member FINRA/SIPC. TD Ameritrade is an independent and unaffiliated SEC-registered broker-dealer. TD Ameritrade offers services to independent investment advisors which include custody of securities, trade execution, clearance and settlement of transactions. Advisor receives some benefits from TD Ameritrade through its participation in the program. (Please see the disclosure under Item 14 below.)

The Firm also recommends Altruist Financial LLC, an unaffiliated SEC-registered broker-dealer and FINRA/SIPC member, as the introducing broker to Apex Clearing Corporation, an unaffiliated SEC-registered broker-dealer and FINRA/SIPC member, as a custodian for Client accounts. Participating Clients will receive no commissions or transaction fees, fully digital account opening, a large variety of security options, and complete integration with software tools. The Firm does not receive any research or other soft-dollar benefit by nature from its relationship with Altruist Financial LLC. The Firm does not receive any referrals in exchange for using Altruist Financial LLC as a broker dealer.

Our custodians offer independent investment advisors various services which include custody of client assets, trade execution, clearance and settlement, etc. Our Firm may receive other benefits from our preferred custodians through participation in their independent advisor support program. These benefits may include the following products and services (provided either without cost or at a discount):

- receipt of duplicate client statements and confirmations
- research related products and tools
- access to trading desks serving our clients
- access to block trading services
- the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from a client's accounts (per written agreement)
- resource information related to capital markets and various investments
- access to electronic communications networks for client order entry and account information
- access to mutual funds with no transaction fees
- discounts on marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to our Firm by third-party providers

Some of the noted tools and services made available by our custodian benefit our advisory Firm but not directly benefit a client's account. While our Firm does not think these services are considered "brokerage or research services" under Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, certain jurisdictions where we serve client accounts believe they fall under this definition. The availability of these services benefits our Firm because we do not have to produce or purchase them as long as clients maintain assets in accounts at our recommended custodian. A conflict of interest exists since our Firm has an incentive to select or recommend a custodian based on our Firm's interest in receiving these benefits rather than our clients' interests in receiving favorable trade execution. It is important to mention that the benefit received by our Firm through participation in any custodian's program does not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to that custodian, and our selection of a custodian is primarily supported by the scope, quality, and cost of services provided as a whole, not just those services that benefit only our advisory Firm. Further, we will act in the best interest of our clients regardless of the custodian we may select. Our Firm conducts periodic assessments of any recommended service provider which generally involves a review of the range and quality of services, reasonableness of fees, among other items, in comparison to industry peers.

Best Execution

“Best execution” means the most favorable terms for a transaction based on all relevant factors, including those listed in the earlier paragraphs. We recognize our obligation in seeking best execution for our clients; however, it is our belief that the determinative factor is not always the lowest possible cost but whether the selected custodian’s transactions represent the best “qualitative execution” while taking into consideration the full range of services provided. Our Firm will seek services involving competitive rates, but it may not necessarily correlate into the lowest possible rate for each transaction. We have determined having our portfolio management clients’ accounts trades completed through our recommended custodian is consistent with our obligation to seek best execution of client trades. A review is regularly conducted with regard to recommending a custodian to our clients in light of our duty to seek best execution.

While our Firm has access to a broad range of securities through our custodian, it is a finite number. In addition, not all investment managers, share classes, etc., are represented at each custodian. Due to these normal and customary limitations, not all portfolio holdings will be readily available, least expensive, best performing, etc. It is an unrealistic expectation for an investor to maintain a premise otherwise.

Directed Brokerage

Not all investment advisors require their clients to direct brokerage. Our internal policy and operational relationship with our custodian require client accounts custodied with them to have trades executed per their order routing requirements. We do not direct which executing broker should be selected for client account trades; whether that is an affiliate of our preferred custodian or another executing broker of our custodian’s choice. As a result, a client may pay higher commissions or other transaction costs, experience greater spreads, or receive less favorable net prices on transactions than might otherwise be the case.

Since we routinely recommend a custodian to our clients, and that custodian may choose to use the execution services of its broker affiliate for some or all of our account transactions, there is an inherent conflict of interest involving our recommendation since our advisory Firm receives various products or services earlier described. Note that we are not compensated for trade routing/order flow, nor are we paid commissions on such trades. We do not receive interest on an account’s cash balance.

Client accounts maintained at our custodian are unable to direct brokerage. As a result, they may pay higher commissions or other transaction costs, potentially experience greater spreads, or receive less favorable net prices on transactions for their account than would otherwise be the case if they had the opportunity to direct brokerage.

For accounts maintained at a custodian of the client's choice (e.g., held-away accounts), the client may choose to request that a particular broker is used to execute some or all account transactions. Under these circumstances, the client will be responsible for negotiating, in advance of each trade, the terms and/or arrangements involving their account with that broker, and whether the selected broker is affiliated with their custodian of record or not. We will not be obligated to seek better execution services or prices from these other brokers, and we will be unable to aggregate transactions for execution via our custodian with other orders for accounts managed by our Firm. As a result, the client may pay higher commissions or other transaction costs, potentially experience greater spreads, or receive less favorable net prices on transactions for their account than would otherwise be the case.

Aggregating Securities Transactions

Trade aggregation involves the purchase or sale of the same security for several clients/accounts at approximately the same time. This may also be termed "blocked" or "batched" orders. Aggregated orders are effected in an attempt to obtain better execution, negotiate favorable transaction rates, or to allocate equitably among multiple client accounts should there be differences in prices, brokerage commissions or other transactional costs that might otherwise be unobtainable through separately placed orders. Our Firm may, but is not obligated, to aggregate orders, and our Firm does not receive additional compensation or remuneration as a result of aggregated transactions.

Transaction charges and/or prices may vary due to account size and/or method of receipt. To the extent that the Firm determines to aggregate client orders for the purchase or sale of securities, including securities in which a related person may invest, the Firm will generally do so in accordance with the parameters set forth in SEC No-Action Letter, SMC Capital, Inc., or similar guidance if the jurisdiction in which the client resides provides such direction. A copy of the referenced No Action letter is available upon request.

Please note that when trade aggregation is not allowed or infeasible and necessitates individual transactions (e.g., withdrawal or liquidation requests, odd-lot trades, non-discretionary accounts, etc.), an account may potentially be assessed higher costs or less favorable prices than those where aggregation has occurred.

We review Firm trading processes on a periodic basis to ensure they remain within stated policies and regulation. Our clients will be informed, in advance, should trading practices change at any point in the future.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

Scheduled Reviews

We encourage periodic reviews of your financial plan and we recommend that they occur at least once a year. Reviews will be conducted by Mr. Iseler and typically involve analysis and possible revision of your previous financial plan or investment allocation.

Investment portfolios that we manage are reviewed on a quarterly or more frequent basis by Mr. Iseler. Client-level portfolio reviews are also completed by Mr. Iseler, and we recommend that they occur on at least an annual basis.

Copies of revised written plans or asset allocation reports generated from these review sessions are provided in printed or digital format upon client request.

Interim Reviews

You should contact our Firm for additional reviews when you anticipate or have experienced changes in your financial situation (i.e., changes in employment, an inheritance, the birth of a new child, etc.), or if you prefer to change requirements involving your plan or investments. Interim planning reviews are conducted by Mr. Iseler and a copy of revised plans or asset allocation reports in printed or digital format will be provided to the client upon request.

Additional portfolio reviews by Mr. Iseler may be triggered by news or research related to a specific holding, a change in our view of the investment merits of a holding, or news related to the macroeconomic climate affecting a sector or holding within that sector. A portfolio may be reviewed for an additional holding or when an increase in a current position is under consideration. Account cash levels above or below what we deem appropriate for the investment environment, given the client's stated tolerance for risk and investment objectives, may also trigger a review.

Client Reports

Whether you have opened and maintained an investment account on your own or with our assistance, you will receive account statements sent directly from your account custodian where your investments are held. We urge you to carefully review these account statements for accuracy and clarity, and to ask questions when something is not clear.

Our Firm does not create its own performance reports. Clients are urged to carefully review and compare account statements that they have received directly from their custodian of record with any report they may receive from any source if that report contains investment performance information.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We do not engage in solicitation activities. If we receive or offer an introduction to a client, we do not pay or earn a referral fee, nor are there established quid pro quo arrangements. Each client retains the option to accept or deny such referral or subsequent services. Please refer to Item 12 for information with respect to our relationship/services from our preferred custodian and the conflicts of interest they present.

As disclosed under Item 12, above, we participate in TD Ameritrade's institutional customer program and Advisor may recommend TD Ameritrade to Clients for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between Advisor's participation in the program and the investment advice it gives to its Clients, although Advisor receives economic benefits through its participation in the program that are typically not available to TD Ameritrade retail investors. These benefits include the following products and services (provided without cost or at a discount): receipt of duplicate Client statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving Advisor participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to Client accounts); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from Client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for Client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to Advisor by third party vendors. TD Ameritrade may also have paid for business consulting and professional services received by Advisor's related persons. Some of the products and services made available by TD Ameritrade through the program may benefit Advisor but may not benefit its Client accounts. These products or services may assist Advisor in managing and administering Client accounts, including accounts not maintained at TD Ameritrade. Other services made available by TD Ameritrade are intended to help Advisor manage and further develop its business enterprise. The benefits received by Advisor or its personnel through participation in the program do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade. As part of its fiduciary duties to clients, Advisor endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by Advisor or its related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence the Advisor's choice of TD Ameritrade for custody and brokerage services.

Item 15 - Custody

Accounts will be maintained by an unaffiliated, qualified custodian; they are not to be maintained by our Firm or any associate of our Firm. In keeping with this policy involving our clients' funds or securities, our Firm:

- Restricts the Firm or an associate from serving as trustee or having general power of attorney over a client account;
- Prohibits any associate from having authority to directly withdraw securities or cash assets from a client account. Although we may be deemed to have custody since we may request the withdrawal of advisory fees from an account, we will only do so through the engagement of a qualified custodian maintaining your account assets in your name, via your prior written approval, and following our delivery of our notice (invoice) as described in Item 5 of this brochure;
- Does not accept or forward client securities (i.e., stock certificates) erroneously delivered to our Firm; and
- Will not collect advance fees of $500 or more for services that are to be performed six months or more into the future.

The custodian of record will provide client account transaction confirmations and statements, which will include debits and credits, as well as reference to our Firm's advisory fee for that period. Statements are provided on at least a quarterly basis and confirmations are provided as transactions occur within the client account. Iseler Financial will not create a separate account statement for a client nor serve as the sole recipient of a client account statement.

Clients are reminded that if they receive a report from any source that includes investment performance information, they are urged to carefully review and compare the report with their account statements that they have received directly from their custodian of record.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

We serve accounts on a discretionary and nondiscretionary basis. Via limited power of attorney, discretionary authority is granted by the client to our Firm so that we may implement investment decisions, such as the purchase or sale of a security on behalf of an account, without requiring the client's prior authorization for each transaction in order to meet stated investment objectives. This authority will be provided by the client through the execution of both our engagement agreement and the custodian's account opening documents. Note that the custodian will specifically limit our Firm's authority within an account to the placement of trade orders and our request for the deduction of our advisory fees.

Accounts served on a nondiscretionary basis require clients' ongoing prior approval involving the investment and reinvestment of account assets, and portfolio rebalancing. The client will be required to execute our Firm's client services agreement that describes our limited account authority, as well as the custodian of record's account opening document that includes their limited power of attorney form or clause. Considering trading pre-approval requirements, the client must make themselves available and keep our Firm updated on their contact information so that instructions can be efficiently effected on their behalf. In addition, nondiscretionary accounts are generally unable to be aggregated (see Item 12) and may therefore be assessed higher trading fees or receive less favorable prices than those accounts where trade aggregation has occurred.

We will account for any reasonable restrictions involving the management of the client's account (i.e., no sin stocks, avoiding international holdings, etc.). It remains the client's responsibility to notify us if there is any change in their situation and/or investment objective so that we may reevaluate previous investment recommendations or portfolio holdings. Our clients retain the right to amend our account authority, in writing.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

Our clients may periodically receive proxies or other similar solicitations sent directly from the custodian of record or transfer agent. If we receive a duplicate copy, note that we do not forward these or any similar correspondence relating to the voting of the client securities, class action litigation, or other corporate actions.

Our Firm does not vote proxies on a client's behalf, including accounts served on a discretionary basis. We will not offer guidance involving any claim or potential claim in any bankruptcy proceeding, class action securities litigation or other litigation or proceeding relating to securities held at any time in a client account, including, without limitation, to file proofs of claim or other documents related to such proceeding, or to investigate, initiate, supervise or monitor class action or other litigation involving client assets. However, we will answer limited questions via a scheduled meeting with respect to what a proxy voting request or other corporate matter may be and how to reach the issuer or its legal representative.

You maintain exclusive responsibility for directing the manner in which proxies solicited by issuers of securities that are beneficially owned by you shall be voted, as well as making all other elections relative to mergers, acquisitions, tender offers or other legal matters or events pertaining to your holdings. You should consider contacting the issuer or your legal counsel involving specific questions you may have with respect to a particular proxy solicitation or corporate action.

Item 18 - Financial Information

Fee withdrawals must be done through a qualified intermediary (e.g., your custodian of record) following your written agreement.

Engagements with our Firm do not require the collection of fees from you of $500 or more for our advisory services that have been agreed to be performed six months or more into the future.

Neither our Firm nor its management serve as general partner for a partnership or trustee for a trust in which the Firm's advisory clients are either partners of the partnership or beneficiaries of the trust.

The Firm and its management do not have a financial condition likely to impair its ability to meet commitments to clients, nor has the Firm and its management been the subject of a bankruptcy petition.

Due to the nature of our Firm's advisory services and operational practices, an audited balance sheet is not required nor included in this brochure.

Item 19 - Requirements for State-Registered Advisers

Principal Executives and Management Persons – Timothy Iseler. Please see Item 4 of this brochure and the cover page (Item 1) of the accompanying Form ADV Part 2B that immediately follows this Firm brochure.

Other Business Activities – Mr. Iseler periodically works as a self-employed audio engineer and musician in the music industry. Performance-Based Fees – There are none. Please see Item 6 of this brochure and Item 5 of the accompanying Form ADV Part 2B that immediately follows this Firm brochure. Neither the Firm nor its management is compensated based on performance-based fees. It is perceived that performance-based compensation may create an incentive for an advisor to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to a client; an activity contrary to the Firm's business practices.

Material Disclosure Matters involving Firm Management – There are none to report. Please refer to Item 9 of this Firm brochure and Items 3 and 7 of the accompanying Form ADV Part 2B supplement that immediately follows this brochure. Item 6 - Supervision

Timothy Iseler serves as the Firm's Chief Compliance Officer. Because supervising one's self poses a conflict of interest, the Firm has adopted policies and procedures to mitigate this conflict. Questions relative to the Firm, its services or this Form ADV Part 2 may be made to the attention of Mr. Iseler at (919) 666-7604.
